In doubles, the service court is also marked by aService line, which is 0.78 meters (2 feet 6 inches) of the rear boundary. Badminton became a popular sport in India in the last decade. He played largely in social clubs and as a pastime during the winter months, badminton saw a massive transition after Saina Nehwal won a bronze medal at the 2012 London Olympics. The mania of catching badminton and touching it at a competitive level saw a big jump. With PV Sindhu winning a silver in Rio 2016 and regularly making his presence felt in the world championship, interest in badminton grew collector. The rited nature of this racquet sport that makes the badminton exciting for the viewers. Whether the transfer travelling at a speed of more than 400 km/h or the delicate of photos, the margin of error is virtually zero. Hence the understanding of the court and how to use the space make all the difference between winning or losing. Badminton: The fastest racket sport in the world in which a badminton block is usually placed on a wooden floor with synthetic carpets used as surface of the court. The courts must provide cushion and comfort to the buses crossing the playing surface to deceive their opponents with overwhelming and smart swaths to earn points. Therefore, maintaining the surface of the primary and proper court is mandatory. A badminton court provides for two types of competition - singles and doubles. The lines of the Court are drawn. But the width differs from the singles court that travel 6,18m (17 feet), indicated by the side lines, while for the double court, the width is extended to 6.1m (20 feet), marked as double sides. A badminton standard court is scheduled for the singles and the doubles game. Image of 2015 Getty Images The court has two halvesMarchisys I .
